

I am a filmmaker and media scholar. My students and I are concerned that further deregulation of ownership rules will lead to even fewer outlets for independent media. In the interests of diversity and access, I hope you will not relax or eliminate existing restrictions.